MANIAC MURDERER.

SUCH MUST BE THE HORRIBLE FIEND AT DENISON.

Four Women Killed in a Night--He Revels in Blood and the Shrieks of His Victims.

A special dispatch from Denison, Texas, has this to say regarding the horrible and atrocious carnival of blood that occurred in that city night before last:

Four horrible murders were committed in this city last night. The first victim was the young wife of Dr. H. F. Haynes, a member of the wholesale and retail hardware establishment of the Leeper Hardware company. The second victim was Miss Florentine Hawley, a beautiful and accomplished young miss of 18 years, who was a prominent lady in society circles. The third and fourth victims were Aeta McIntosh, an inmate of Mme. Lester's bagnio, and Rose Stewart, an inmate of Mme. Rivers' bagnio.

Last evening Mrs. A. B. Garner, with her daughter, Mrs. Dr. H. F. Haynes, left their home on Wood-lawn boulevard, outside the city limits, to attend the Demorest medal entertainment at the M. E. church, within the city. Dr. Haynes accompanied his wife and mother-in-law to the city, and himself went, as per previous agreement, to be initiated as a member of the new lodge, No. 238, of B. P. O. Elks, which ceremony was to be performed at Odd Fellows' hall. He was there and had but a short time previous taken his degrees, when a messenger came to summon him to his home, there, as it proved, to find his wife cold in death, the victim of an assassin's bullet. When Mrs. Garner and daughter, Mrs. Haynes, returned to their homes on the boulevard it was about 11 o'clock. They live in mansions very near together. Mother and daughter separated. In a few minutes after a loud scream was heard. The theory is that when Mrs. Haynes entered the front door she confronted the burglar; that she turned and fled, pursued by him. In the excitement she ran due south, passing through a gate into a vacant lot comprising several acres. There is a wire fence enclosing the grounds on the south. When she reached this fence she could not go further, and so turned and went down a rather steep hill. It was here where the first shot was fired, the ball passing through the left shoulder. When the bottom of the hill was reached the lady must have stumbled and fallen to the ground, as her body was discovered a foot or so from there. The murderer then grasped Mrs. Haynes and placing his pistol close to her forehead, fired, the ball crashing through her brain, entering just above the nose, between the eyes. When his victim was dead the murderer took her gold watch and chain. There was a diamond ring on one of the fingers of the right hand, but it was not easy to remove. The devilish brute pounded the finger to a pulp, crushing the bones, probably with the butt end of his revolver, and took off the ring. The villain held the pistol so close to the lady's forehead that her face was badly powder burnt and the eyebrows singed. This morning the ground back of and about 400 feet below the residence where Mrs. Haynes fell was carefully examined, and the ball which the murderer fired from a 44-caliber revolver was found embedded in the earth. It had passed entirely through the head and into the ground.

The Second Victim.

After killing Mrs. Haynes the assassin proceeded to the residence of Mrs. Hawley, on Austin avenue. This was about 3:15 this morning. After entering the window the man went to a rear door leading from the kitchen to the rear yard, and opened it, leaving it open to afford him easy exit. He then passed directly into the sleeping room of Misses Allie and Teen Hawley, which is on the east side of the house, in the center. Both were sleeping soundly when the man crept stealthily into their room. The only other occupants of the house were Mrs. Hawley, who slept in a rear room in the west side of the house, and Watt Smith, whose room is on the Morton street front, west side. The movements of the intruder, who was rumaging through the things in the room, awakened Miss Teen Hawley, who saw a dark figure moving about. She screamed loudly and ran into her mother's room, which adjoins hers. Miss Allie then awoke and saw the man near by her. "Oh, sir," she begged of him, "don't hurt us. You can have all our jewelry and all the money we have, but please don't hurt us."

"No," replied the ruffian, "in a gruff voice, 'I don't want that. I only want to kill your sister.'"

The man then left the room and passed to the other side of the house, where he could look into the room where Miss Teen Hawley had fled. There he could see mother and daughter sitting on the bed. The scoundrel raised his revolver and fired diagonally through the window directly at Miss Teen Hawley. The ball passed behind the mother and entered Miss Hawley's body, back and just below the right shoulder, passing downward through the right lung and breast, coming out near the left lung, killing her instantly. Not satisfied with his hellish work, the fiend passed around to the north kitchen, down through which he had entered the house, and fired again at the body of the dead girl.

After the murder of Miss Hawley the fiend proceeded to the bagnio of Madame Lester. The house was full of visitors. All were laughing and cracking jokes with their visitors when suddenly two shots were fired from the front porch. They were fired diagonally, in rapid succession, and from a 44 or 45 gun. The balls were aimed evidently at Maud Kramer, and they came true. She fell face downward and as she fell cried:

"Oh, my God, I am shot!"

The wound was mortal, the girl dying to-day.

On the next street is a bagnio kept by Fannie Williams, more familiarly known as the Rivers bagnio. Rose Stewart was on the first floor, about to retire, when the murderer fired through the window, the ball entering under the right arm, inflicting a wound which will prove fatal. Over 500 armed men are scouring the country for the murderer, but up to this evening he had not been captured.

A DEMOCRAT reporter this morning visited the home of Engineer Henry D. Boult, of the Missouri Pacific, living at No. 1109 East Tenth street, and was the first to break the news to his family. Miss Teen Hawley was the niece of Mr. Boult and was living with her widowed and invalid mother at Denison. The reporter was shown her picture and saw a face of rare sweetness and beauty. The young lady was a southern girl of high attainments and possessed all those charms that have made southern women so noted. She was a blonde with clear cut, regular features, light waving hair and blue eyes.

Her father has been dead a number of years, and the family had just recently come from Shreveport, La., and taken up their home at Denison where they formally commenced keeping house last Saturday. The family consists of the mother and three daughters, all of whom have been highly educated. Miss Allie, the oldest, aged 23, is an artist of unusual ability while her sister, Miss Teen, aged 18, was an accomplished musician and helped to support the family by teaching a class of pupils. Miss Mary is the youngest sister and is 15 years old.

The young ladies have passed most of their life at Nashville, Tennessee, and were educated in the famous St. Cecelia's academy at that place.

Mrs. Boult was much agitated by the terrible news. The young ladies were just planning a visit to Sedalia and Mrs. Boult was making preparations to entertain them.

Dr. Wm. Boult, an uncle of the dead girl, lives about four blocks west of Ohio on Sixth. He recently came to Sedalia from Natchitoches, La. About a week and a half ago he stopped in Denison to see his sister and neices and was thunder-struck when he received the news of the murder last night. Either he or his brother, Engineer Henry Boult will leave for Denison this evening.

The Latest.

The following special was received at 4 o'clock, just as the DEMOCRAT goes to press:

Special to the Democrat.

DENISON, Tex., May 19. Maud Kramer, the woman shot in Mme. Lester's house, is still alive, but slowly sinking. Rose Stewart, who was shot in the house of Mme. Rivers, will probably recover.

There are several new developments which, for expediency, the officers are keeping quiet. There are several arrests on suspicion, but they amount to nothing. Armed officers are scouring the entire country and the city was surrounded and guarded by heavily armed men all last night and all suspicious characters made to give an account of themselves.

SEDALIA GETS IT.

The State Medical Convention to Meet Here Next Year.

The State Medical society which has been in session at Pertle Springs for three days, closed to-day at noon. All the prominent physicians of the state were present and many valuable papers were read. The discussions of the different papers took up much of the time and was thorough and comprehensive. The utmost harmony prevailed throughout the entire proceedings. Over 200 members were present. Drs. Ed. Evans, E. F. Yancey and Henry Evans attended from Sedalia.

When the place for holding the next meeting came up, Sedalia came forward and entered the list. She had but one opponent, Excelsior Springs. The fight was quite warm for awhile, but when the vote was taken, the Queen City discounted her competitor by two to one. Sedalia was accordingly named as the next place of meeting which will be the third Tuesday in May, 1893.

It is predicted that over 400 doctors will be present on this occasion, owing to the greater accessibility and better accommodations. The citizens take pride in offering beforehand a hearty welcome to the noble men who represent so much of the intellect and stability of this great commonwealth.

Snowed Under.

A match game of base ball was played by Sedalia and Warrensburg at the latter's grounds last evening, the score being 7 to 3 in favor of Warrensburg. The Sedalia team was composed of the following:

GOODY, HERE COMES

The EVENING DEMOCRAT.

"I would earnestly advise them for their good to order this paper to be punctually served up and to be looked upon as a part of the tea equipage."—ADDISON.

St. Louis calls for an organized system of relief for the sufferers from the recent flood.

The Journal of Agriculture thinks the acreage planted to corn in this state will be considerably reduced by the continued wet weather.

The Saline county democrats polled about 4,000 votes at the primary election. That indicates a pretty fair vote next fall.

The democratic house should put the republican senate to the test on a few more reform measures. The people now understand that the tariff is a tax.

There is no state in the union whose affairs have been more intelligently or more honestly managed than have those of Missouri during the past twenty years.

If the republicans had any idea of electing their county ticket they would protest against the action of the committee which only gave them one week's notice of the convention.

Mr. Wm. Warner is a very clever gentleman, but there is no reason on earth why any democrat should vote for him, and no ground upon which to suppose that they are going to do so.

Ben Harrison is not the only distinguished republican who is "going fishing" this summer. Several of them, however, will wait until about the first of November for their little vacation.

Cold, calculating John Sherman has his eye on the republican presidential nomination. Of all the tools of monopoly in the United States, he is the one whom democrats would most delight to defeat.

Some of the republican leaders have hatched up a nice little scheme to beat Harrison. They will put Blaine against him and then, when grandfather's hat has been hopelessly smashed, the plumed knight will decline and some baser minion will be given the prize.

The dreadful intelligence comes from Washington that congress may remain in session until the first of September.—Evening Democrat.

And this is the democratic congress that stood pledged to "retrenchment and reform;" the congress, too, that has already caused the "billion dollar congress"—the one that the democracy howled so much about last campaign—to take a position in the rear of the procession.—Gazette.

Editor Streit forgets, if he ever knew, that "congress" is composed of two branches, the senate and the house, and while the house is largely democratic and devoted to reform, the senate has a beastly republican majority which neither eloquence nor logic can move. It acts as a drag upon reform measures and has awakened a feeling of distrust among the masses, second only to that felt by the people of England toward the house of lords. Any meritorious measure the house should pass the senate would be sure to kill.

MISSOURI IN NOVEMBER.

The Kansas City Star, a mugwump journal which is sometimes erroneously considered a democratic paper, has this to say about the Missouri campaign:

"The fight for Missouri is going to be a lively one this year. Major Warner has convinced the party managers that there is an even chance and Tom Reed, John Sherman and others will be sent to look into the matter. These able gentlemen will not move the state away from its Cleveland moorings, but they may make it warm for the major's opponent. There is a good chance in that direction."

Happily the Star represents no considerable number of voters. The Missouri climate is not favorable to the growth of mugwumps, but produces a hardy race of men who vote for principle and worship only one God.

There is not a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor who is not at least Major Warner's equal in all that goes to make a model chief executive, and that any democrat contemplates voting for the republican candidate is an assumption that no mugwump journal has the right to make.

Dalton, Stone, Yeaman, Gibson or Claycomb is as strong before the people of Missouri as is Grover Cleveland, and if the democratic nominee for governor is defeated the electoral vote of the state will go into the republican column.

This may not be just as the Star would like to see it, but it is the real situation.

What little dissatisfaction there is among Missouri democrats grows out of the failure of the national democracy to stand as squarely as it should for certain measures the western people want to see adopted, and is not due to any mismanagement of Missouri affairs.

The real democrats of Missouri are proud of the record of their party in this state and they will show Maj. Warner that in no sense is he any better than his party. They do not vote against republicans because they dislike them personally, but because they are opposed to the principles these republicans represent. Missouri democrats have been more careless in point of organization in the past than they will be in the future, and Maj. Warner will have a plurality of 50,000 votes against him.

This country don't need a new navy half as bad as it needs better country roads and it should be borne in mind that every dollar taken from the people to be squandered on useless vessels for the benefit of the steel and iron trust reduces the ability of the people to build and maintain good roads.

FREAK OF A HORSE.

Which Caused Quite a Serious Injury to the Rider.

Mr. J. M. McFarlane received an injury last evening that may confine him to his room for some days to come.

About 6 o'clock he was riding a young horse which was hardly broken to bit and saddle. Reaching Broadway Mr. McFarlane tried to guide west, but the animal refused to go in that direction, and wheeling around started east, where Mr. McFarlane lives. But a short distance had been traveled when horse and rider were piled in a heap, McFarlane being thrown violently against the stony pavement, receiving a number of bruises, spraining and dislocating his right ankle.

He was picked up and carried to Fleischmann's drug store, where his injuries were treated.

FAITHFUL TO THE TRUST.

The Saline County Democracy Instructs for Heard.

The Saline county democratic convention which met in Marshall on Monday last, adopted the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, Our representative in congress, Hon. John T. Heard, has ever proved faithful to the trust reposed in him by the people and has always been found at his post during critical periods in the shaping of national legislation. Therefore, be it Resolved, That the democracy of Saline county in convention assembled, do heartily endorse the course of Hon. John T. Heard, as our representative and point with pride, to the fact that he is for the interests of the people as against oppression by excessive taxation, or any other encroachments on well defined and well established democratic principles, and for these virtues deserves the unanimous commendation of "well done, good and faithful servant."

Resolved, That our delegates to the congressional convention at Sedalia are instructed to cast the vote of Saline county for Mr. Heard and use all honorable means to secure his unanimous nomination.

"MAN WAS MADE TO MOURN."

Pathetic Story of an Octogenarian Whom the Reverses of Fortune Left Penniless and Alone.

Michael Melaneph, a well dressed, good looking but penniless sage applied to the mayor for alms to-day, saying that he desired to go to Warsaw where he had friends.

He stated that he was a railroader but had recently been thrown out of employment and that the scanty store of funds he had saved up had been exhausted. There was something about the venerable seer that attracted a DEMOCRAT reporter's attention so that the old gentleman was soon buttonholed by the news-seeker who bombarded him with interrogatories for about half hour. By piecemeal the following story was pumped from the footsore traveller:

My name is Michael Melaneph and I was born in Ireland in 1809. When quite a boy I took a fancy to the sea and after working as an humble mariner for a number of years, I was in 1844 made captain of a merchant vessel that plied between Liverpool and the West Indies.

By rigid economy I had managed to lay up quite a sum of money which I readily increased by investments as the years went by. In 1853 just as the year was drawing to a close, we were coming home from China and had reached the Cannibal Islands when the vessel caught on fire and was burned to the water. All the company's vast store of merchandise, including every dollar I had, and fifteen members of the crew perished in the flames, myself and two others being the only survivors.

Disheartened by the disaster I returned home and shortly afterward came to America where I have since lived, drifting along working as a longshoreman in New York for a number of years and then entering the railroad service. All the members of my family are dead save one son and I have not seen him for a score of years.

"Here I am," he soliloquized, while his aged eyes filled with tears and his voice trembled, "after having lived for 83 years, alone in the world without a friend and without a dollar!" He was given a ticket and sent rejoicing on his journey.

HIT WITH AN IRON BAR.

A Small Boy Assaulted at the Novelty Store on Second Street.

The "Novelty" store on East Second street was the scene of a little affair late yesterday afternoon, that came near making serious trouble for one of the employees of the concern.

Eddie Leach, the 10-year-old son of "Dad" Leach, the depot janitor, was assaulted by a young fellow named H. Gomerall and struck on the head with a small iron bar. Leach's head was cut and the wound bled profusely.

The officers arrested Gomerall and Judge Rauck fined him $5. A heavier fine would have taught the wielder that iron bars can not be used too promiscuously in Sedalia, even in a "Novelty" store.

A Narrow Escape.

Monday afternoon, while little Milton Knighton was swinging in his hammock, he was unfortunate enough to fall out catching his head in some way in a looped strap which was dangling at the side of the hammock and strangling himself to unconsciousness. Mr. Knighton discovered the situation of his child, however, and released him, and after a short time the child was brought back to consciousness. It was certainly a close call, and it will be some time before Milton will venture to swing in a hammock again.—Hannibal Journal.

COME ON.

Outlook for the Establishment of a Pork Packing House in Sedalia.

A letter of inquiry has been received by a business firm in this city from two gentlemen at Versailles concerning the desirability of establishing a pork packing house in Sedalia.

In the letter the gentlemen say the present location hasn't the facilities necessary to enable them to conduct business on so large a scale as they wish and they are anxious to change their headquarters.

The letter was duly turned over to the Commercial Club and the matter attended to by that organization. "We advised them to come on," remarked a representative of the club to a DEMOCRAT representative to-day, "and told them that Sedalia was the best inland town in the state, had better railroad facilities and was pervaded with a spirit of enterprise that was making her growth phenomenal."

The invitations and banquet occurred last night. The blue blood of Denison composes the lodge. Superintendent J. W. Maxwell and Auditor Heber Page are among the railroad members.

of a Train and is Crushed.Last evening at 8:15 o'clock, Jesse Rogers, the 13-year-old son of Engineer G. T. Rogers, of the Missouri Pacific, residing at No. 902 East Fifth street, was run over by the cars near the "X" office in East Sedalia.Young Rogers was riding on the caboose of an incoming freight train when some one hollered at him to scare him away. The boy jumped and, as the train was run-ning at a pretty good rate, he was thrown to the ground. He rolled up to a parallel track upon which switch engine No. 202 was passing with Missouri Pacific car No. 939.The boy's left foot was upon the rail and was passed over by the rear trucks of the freight car. There was a terrible laceration of the flesh and a compound comminuted fracture of the ankle.Drs. McNeil and Shadburne, of the M., K. & T. hospital, were called in attendance and the boy taken to his home. His leg was not amputated but the surgeons fear that it may be found necessary to do it.AMUSEMENTS.*All Next Week.The boards will be held by the Part--One of the Finest Musical Treats Ever Given in Sedalia.Under the direction of Miss Helen Gallie, the pupils of the public schools will appear at the opera house to-night in a well-selected vocal and instrumental programme.Heretofore, the commencement exercises have always been of a literary nature. An additional grade this year changed what would have been the seniors to juniors and the young ladies and gentlemen will be compelled to attend another year to secure their diplomas. There are about 25 pupils in the present class.To provide for the lack of exercises proper, it was decided for the approval and entertainment of the public something that at one time provoked considerable discussion and which even yet in many instances is not fully understood and appreciated by the parents. For several years the study of vocal music has been included in the curriculum of the schools. Miss Helen Gallie has been the able and talented teacher, and the pupils have made rapid and astonishing progress.

Many fine and promising voices have been discovered. The school directors themselves hardly knew what a state of excellence had been reached until at a recent institute there were several choruses that made the "fathers of the schools" open their eyes.There is not a person in Sedalia who should fail to attend to-night.
They can depend upon as pleasing and satisfactory music as has been heard in Sedalia in years. Below is the program:PART I.

- 1—High School March—"Welcome." Veazie.
Chorus of sixty pupils from High school.
- 2—Violin solo—"Babillage" Clara Shephard.
- 3—a. Choral—"There is a River" Flurius.
b. "Neapolitan Boat Song" Anon.
Chorus of eighty children from grades Nos. 4 and 5 of city schools.
- 4—Piano duet—"March of Amazons" Sprindler.
Fannie Smith and Ollie Withers.
- 5—"Peasants Wedding March" Soldermann.
- High School Chorus.
- 6—"Boat Song" Minard.
Sixteen boys from grade No. 4, Broadway school.
- 7—Instrumental Quintette—"Idylle" C. Franke.
Glenn Woods, Ernest Brown, Ed Lay Gurney and Kipper Wallace.
- 8—"Happy Miller" Veazie.
Childrens' Chorus.

PART II.

- 1—English glee—"Red Cross Knights" Callcott.
High School Chorus.
- 2—Violin solo—"Air with Variations" Dancila.
Hattie Lyon.
- 3—a. Round—"Evening Shadows" Ferrari.
b. "Mountain Climbing Song" Abt.
Childrens' Chorus.
- 4—Part song—"Where are You Going, My Pretty Maid" Callcott.
Semi-chorus of mixed voices.
- 5—a. "Lead On" From Judas
b. Hail Judea. Maccabeus.
Handel.
Chorus of 140 voices.

The price of admission will be twenty-five cents to any part of the house. No reserved seats. The proceeds of the evening will be devoted to increasing the public school library or expended for the musical fund, as the board may decide.It is a matter of fact that sufficient interest and attention is not paid by the majority of parents to educational matters. They give their children into the hands of the teachers and expect to see their offsprings in a few years become Daniel Websters and George Washingtons. The education of their children should be the paramount duty of everyone who has the responsibility of raising them. Society is either strengthened or weakened by the degree of education of its members.The schools of Sedalia, however, were never in a more prosperous condition. The faculty is one of the best in the state, the buildings are in good condition, there have been no epidemics, and the standard of studies is a high one. Every stranger who has occasion to inquire, is surprised at the general excellence of the schools and the fact that a diplomafrom our high school is sufficient to admit the bearer to first class colleges.To the perseverance, the intelligence and conscientious work of Superintendent A. J. Smith, his principal, Prof. W. A. Rawles, the extensive corps of teachers and the school board, the great city of Sedalia is immeasurably indebted, and the young ladies and gentlemen now growing up under their charge will in future years look back with fond remembrance and appreciation to the kindness and loyalty of the minds and hearts of those who have so carefully watched over them.The examinations are completed to-day. The promotion cards will be given out to-morrow and the boys and girls turned loose for the summer. Superintendent Smith stated to-day that there had been a decided increase over past years in the number of promotions notwithstanding that the examinations had been much more difficult.THE NEW DIRECTORS.*The Stockholders Meet at Parsons and Transact Considerable Business.The meeting of the stockholders of the M., K. & T. railway for the election of a board of directors for the ensuing year, took place at Parsons yesterday. The following board was elected:Jno. D. Rockfeller, Wm. Dowd, Colgate Hoyt, Henry C. Rouse, Simon Sterne, Wm. Bond, Joel F.
Freeman, Thos. Purdy, Sam'l Sloan and H. W. Poor, all of New York, and J. Waldo, of St. Louis; Frederick N. Finney, of Milwaukee; H. J.
Domarey Oyens, of Amsterdam, Holland; Hiram C. Cross, of Emporia, Kas.; B. P. McDonald, of Fort Scott, Kan., and Lee Clark, of Parsons, Kas.President H. C. Cross and Local Treasurer Ben P. McDonald tendered their resignations which were accepted, and resolutions were adopted thanking these gentlemen in glowing terms for the untiring work they had done in furthering the interest of the road.Six hundred thousand shares, the entire stock of the company, were voted. The bonds of the Missouri, Kansas & Eastern branch, now building into St. Louis, were guaranteed and the action of the executive committee in authorizing bonds to the extent of $4,500,000 for this purpose was approved. The board will back the M., K. & T. railway company of Texas in building different branches in that state and bonds not in excess of $10,000,000 will be floated for that purpose. $10,000,000 worth of bonds of the Southwestern Improvement company was also approved.The new board was further authorized to negotiate tariff agreements with the C., B. & Q. and the Chicago, Burlington and Northwestern roads for the purpose of gaining an increase of terminal facilities in St. Louis.The officials left for Denison, Texas last evening and will hold a meeting in that city this afternoon for the purpose of electing directors and officers for that division of the road.While a number of the new board will be included in that of the Texas department, yet a number of Texas gentlemen will, by the laws of the state, be placed on this latter board.At the close of to-day's work, the stockholders and other officials will leave for New York where the new officers of the road will be named on the 24th.Good Advice.Don't starve your stock when you can find corn, oats and hay at H. R. Brosing's, 1023 S. Ohio, corner Eleventh street. Also a full stock of groceries. Telephone 257.Hurrah for Vacation.The pupils of the public schools are jubilant over the fact that the summer vacation commences tomorrow. The teachers will now take their long-needed rest and the small boy devote several months to catching malaria on Flat Creek and studying the peculiarities of angle worms and catfish.Supt. Smith and family will leave for a visit to Galveston next week, after which he will lecture extensively before various educational societies in Illinois. He will also attend the National Educational convention at Saratoga, July 15.Prof. W. A. Rawles will depart in a few days for his home at Bloomington, Indiana.Notice of Dissolution.Notice is hereby given that the co-partnership heretofore existing between D. M. Overstreet and S. B.
Williams, under the firm name of Overstreet & Williams, is this day dissolved, the said S. B. Williams retiring. The business will in future be conducted by D. M. Overstreet.
All accounts due the old firm payable to him, and all the old firm's indebtedness assumed by him.D. M. OVERSTREET, Sedalia, Mo., May 12, 1892.ADJOURNED.*THE ODD FELLOWS' CONVEN-*TION CLOSED.*Their Exit Made in Sunshine Which Came "Like a Pardon After Execution."This afternoon at 2 o'clock the Missouri state convention of the Order of Odd Fellows adjourned, after a session of three days' duration.On account of the beastly weather that prevailed, the enjoyment that might otherwise have been afforded by the occasion was to a large extent curtailed and the list of delegates cut short.In the face of this discouragement, however, some one thousand visitors have been entertained by the Queen City during the week now drawing to a close.The dissatisfaction engendered by warring elements was largely appeased, however, by the very fact that it but served to stimulate the citizens of Sedalia to even more than wonted hospitality. Flattering resolutions expressive of their gratitude were passed and recorded in the minutes of all branches of the order, and all who had an opportunity went in person to the local committee on arrangements to make individual acknowledgments.The Daughters of Rebekah adjourning at 10 o'clock last night concluding by exemplifying the floor work of the order and the installation of the officers elect. The new staff who made their "calling and election sure" yesterday are as follows:President, Mrs. J. L. Hafford, of Marionville.Vice-president, Mrs. Allie Pound-stone, of Carterville.Secretary, Miss Cora Wack, of Salisbury.Assistant secretary, Mrs. Alice Simpson, of St. Louis.Treasurer, Mrs. R. L. Ginn, of Trenton.Executive committee, Robt. Morris, of St. Louis; Mrs. M. Hisser, of St. Louis, and Miss Cassia Baily, of La Plata.The $50 prize awarded for the best floor contest drill was awarded to Carterville. While the Daughters of Rebekah were engaged last night the Odd Fellows were also having a big time at Armory hall.The Trenton degree team, which has won national honors and which is recognized as the best drilled in the country, exemplified the floor work of the I. O. O. F., from the initiation degree clear through the third. Two trembling candidates, both residents of Sedalia, underwent the entire ordeal. It is said that four physicians have been kept constantly at their bedsides since 12 o'clock last night when the exercises were adjourned.The Grand Lodge met in session at the court house this morning at 10 o'clock for the purpose of installing the new officers. These were R. M. Abercrombie, of St.

Joseph, who was elected tothe office of grand warden and E. R. Shipley, of Springfield, who was chosen grand representative. At the morning session Mr.
T. P. Rixie was re-elected grand lecturer of the state. In addition to the installation of these officers, the rest of the morning session was consumed with legislative work, such as constitutional amendments etc. This work was resumed after dinner and concluded about 2 o'clock.The next annual convention will in all probability meet in St. Louis.Notes.H. J. Hughes and wife, Trenton, are attending the encampment. Mrs.
Hughes is the author of "Odd Fellows' Scenery," illustrating pictures in degree work which has been adopted as an official work all over the country.Ingomar canton, I. O. O. F. of Sedalia are jammed full of enthusiasm. There is no other uniformed rank in the state that has that more elegant uniforms and accoutrements. The gentlemen propose to get down to work and in a short time will put up a drill that will outdo the palmiest days of the famous Busch Zouaves, of St.
Louis.Canton Ingomar No. 12, I. O.
O. F., will give a dress parade at 7 o'clock this evening on Ohio street, headed by Sedalia Military band and officers of the grand lodge, under command of Brigadier General Cadle.The question of permitting third degree men to sit in the grand council will be considered by the Sovereign Grand Lodge.SEDALIA, Mo., May 18.—Louis E. Brener, of St. Louis, who is here attending the Grand Lodge meeting of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, organized a branch of the American Protective association here to-day with fifteen charter members. The object of the association, as stated by Mr. Brener, is to oppose the election of any Catholic to a state, county or municipal office. The utmost secrecy was maintained in the organization of the association, and the names of the officers and members have not yet been obtained by the local newspapers, notwithstanding they made strong efforts in that direction.The above special was sent to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat last night but the report is evidently exaggerated even if it has any foundation.A DEMOCRAT reporter accosted fully fifty different delegates about the matter but none of them knew anything about it."The man's name is Brener not Brener," remarked one of the St.
Louis delegates, "and he is a member of the American Protective association, being employed as agent for the Galesburg Insurance company."If he is opposing the Catholics it is as an individual and not as a representative of the order, for it is one of the fundamental principles of Odd Fellowship to treat both protestant and catholic alike.Do you want to rent a house?
